Choir has enjoyed a visit from the 'Popera' team this week where they practiced singing in different styles.

This week has been just as fun and busy as last week. The whole school has traveled far and wide. Reception constructed their own Eiffel Tower in French, Year 1 have huffed and puffed this week, but could not blow the 3 little pigs' house down. An amazing time was had by Year 2 who made their own globes to help with learning the continents. After building their own ancient civilizations last week Year 3 have been pinpointing each one on the map. Year 4 used green screen to plot the Greek timeline. Year 5 has been in deep discussion this week exploring the main beliefs held in Islam. Year 6 created music to match the feeling of a volcanic eruption.

On Thursday morning, six year 4 pupils went to Black Firs Primary School to take part in science activities. Led by scientists from Astra Zeneca, they learnt how to make a lava lamp using water, oil, food colouring and a few drops of washing up liquid. Also they learnt how to extract DNA from bananas, which was quite amazing!

The children were Callum Briggs, Thomas Inman, Kalaya Partridge, Robin Calveley, Megan Woods, Harry Johnson, Ethan Thomason and Elliot Browne. These nominated children were awarded with a VIP lunch

Notices

We are now collecting Sainsbury's vouchers for school.

Mossley School is full of talented children who do so many incredible things outside of school. If your child does anything WOW outside of school please let us know. We would like to celebrate them by putting them on our celebrations section on our website. Please send a photo and a small write up of any outstanding achievements to office@mossleyce.cheshire.sch.uk

From 27th February School meals will be changing slightly. If a meal has not been preordered the default meal will be beans on toast, egg on toast or spaghetti on toast depending on which is prepared that day.

Take a look at our new website, under the Our news and Our celebrations section, we have lots of budding reporters within school who have summarized things they have done. This will be updated frequently so keep looking.
